Deck13 Interactive Partners Up With Focus Home Interactive to Release Unannounced RPG – First Artwork Revealed

After announcing our partnership with Focus Home Interactive, we are delighted to finally show the first artwork for our upcoming IP (the name will be revealed at a later date), which will be a new premium Action RPG set in a dystopian sci-fi future.

With this new title we will feature innovative combat mechanics and an original character progression system based on modular upgrades gained through tight, visceral combat.

The unannounced IP will be revealed at a later date, and the game is expected to launch on Playstation 4, Xbox One and PC with a retail and digital release in 2017.
